Seneca Programs

Located at the Agency's Seneca Office in Waterloo, Seneca Programs administers a variety of programs to support customers on their paths to self-sufficiency.

Car Seat Distribution

Provides children's car seats free of charge to eligible families in need. A certified technician is on staff to educate families on proper installation of child seats and to provide child safety instruction.

Emergency Services

Emergency Services works with families and individuals through crisis situations. Emergency Services provides food, advocacy, clothing, shelter, prescription assistance, emergency transportation assistance, and responds to a wide array of situations.

Free Clothing

The agency provides free clothing and small household items to those in need.

Emergency Food Pantry

The Agency's Seneca Programs food pantry operates Monday through Friday from 9 am to 5 pm. The Agency provides emergency food assistance on a monthly basis to individuals and families in Seneca County, and twice monthly to residents of Waterloo, to help alleviate hunger in the community.

Emergency Baby Pantry

The Seneca Programs Emergency Baby Pantry will open Spring 2015 and will provide formula, baby food, diapers, wipes, cream and other baby needs to income-eligible families in Seneca County.

The Emergency Baby Pantry will operate with the same accessibility guidelines and hours as the food pantry.

Health Insurance Access

Assistance to individuals and families to identify and obtain affordable health insurance through the New York State of Health Marketplace.

Healthy Families Cayuga/Seneca

Healthy Families is a free and voluntary program designed to provide support and information to pregnant women and families with children under three months of age living in eligible service areas. It is comprised of several components including the most up-to-date information on child health and development, parent-child interaction, and supporting and achieving self-sufficiency.
